THE PLAY

GRANDPA DONKEY

Merry Christmas! I'm glad to see you all.

DONKEY FAMILY

(The donkey family all call out different hellos at the same time)

Hi Grandpa Donkey. Merry Christmas Grandpa Donkey, or little hee-haws.

GRANDPA DONKEY

Now grab your hot chocolate and Christmas cookies and get settled so I can tell you the story of our very first donkey family's Christmas.

As you all know, this story did not start with me. It started with my great, great, great, great, great.... many, many, many.... great, great, great, great.... many, many, many Grandpa Donkeys ago. The very first Grandpa Donkey!

Now, there was a very special baby born over 2000 years ago named Jesus and the very first Grandpa Donkey was there when He was born. Our first Grandpa Donkey loved Baby Jesus with all his heart and cared for Him and His family. The night before Jesus' first birthday, Grandpa Donkey gathered his family to share all he remembered about Jesus' birth, calling it "the miracles of Jesus' birth." So, just like my grandpa told me, and his grandpa told him, and his grandpa told him, all the way back to the very first Grandpa Donkey, I'll tell you the story just exactly like our very first Grandpa donkey told it.

(Grandpa Donkey looks up as if to be remembering the story.

Mary enters stage left with a dish towel in her hand and pretends to be washing dishes. Grandpa Donkey pretends to pick up some hay and begins to munch on the hay and make loud chomping sounds.)

There I was, just chomping my hay and watching young Mary through the kitchen window, washing the morning dishes after eating breakfast with her mom and dad. She was standing there by herself, when suddenly! WOW!

(The Angel enters stage left bent over, then stands up straight next to Mary)

A flash of light, so bright it hurt my eyes to look, but look I did, indeed! And there, standing in the kitchen, was an angel! The angel says, "Hello Mary!"

(Angel waves to Mary with a smile)

You are full of God's love,

(Angel reaches arms out to make a big circle in front of themselves, then pulls their hands to their heart)

and Father God

(Angel points up)

has chosen you

(Angel points to Mary)

to be the mother of His son Jesus.

(Angel moves arms as if to be rocking a baby. Mary acts surprised)

Mary said back to the angel, "Me? Really?"

(Mary points to herself looking puzzled)

The angel tells her "Yes, you"

(Angel points twice to Mary, once on each word)

So, Mary said, "Okay"

And sure enough, eight months later, when Mary was getting things ready for her baby's birth, the Governor of their country commanded everyone to travel to their hometown to be counted, and to pay taxes. Mary was worried because her hometown Bethlehem was a great distance away, and she did not want to travel, as the baby was due soon.

Now, Mary was engaged to this young man named Joseph, who was a wonderful carpenter in the town where she lived. So, Joseph said to Mary, “Don’t worry Mary. I’ll take care of you and take you to Bethlehem so we can pay our taxes together, and you can ride on your donkey all the way there.” So, Mary and Joseph set out for Bethlehem. They traveled for several days, and when they finally got there, they couldn’t believe their eyes!

The town was so noisy! and so full of people coming there to pay their taxes, that they couldn’t find any rooms anywhere!

(Mary walks behind Joseph as they enter from stage left and approach the Innkeeper. Mary stops as Joseph walks closer to the Innkeeper and pretends to knock on a door)

Now Joseph was starting to get worried because Mary told him that it was time for baby Jesus to be born.

(Innkeeper opens the door and Joseph gestures as if he is talking to the Innkeeper and points to Mary)

So, at the next inn they stopped at, Joseph told the Innkeeper about Mary needing a place to stay because she was about to have a baby.

(Innkeeper crosses hands back and forth in front of himself, then points his thumb over his shoulder several times to signal a stable out in the backyard).

Of course, the Innkeeper tells him they had no room for anybody in the inn, but if they wanted to, they could stay in his stable where he kept his animals.

(Joseph grabs the Innkeeper’s hand and shakes it eagerly as he nods “yes”)

Joseph told the Innkeeper, “I’ll take it!”

(Mary rolls her eyes as her mouth gapes open and she shakes her head “no” in disbelief)

Oh, you should have seen Mary's face! So, off Mary and Joseph went on their way, to the stable.

(Mary, Joseph & the Innkeeper exit the stage)

GRANDPA DONKEY

(This section of the play has been performed in two different ways. Let your Grandpa Donkey decide what he is comfortable with and do it that way. Option one, Grandpa Donkey stands and talks directly to the donkey family, encouraging them to sing along. Option two, Grandpa Donkey stays sitting, singing the song with his family, holding a pretend mic up to donkey kids as they make animal noises and sing along. Written below is Option one. Grandpa Donkey can certainly adlib and make this section his own words and style.)

Now if you thought the Bethlehem was crowded and noisy, you should have seen the stable! It was a cold, starry night, and every creature and their cousins were in that small stable, trying to stay warm.

(Grandpa Donkey begins his "Old Mac Donald" song. As Grandpa Donkey sings, the Innkeeper walks on stage and places a wood manger on center stage. Any additional Manger Animals enter stage left and sit near the manger (not next to it) leaving lots of room for Mary, Joseph, Shepherds and Wisemen as they come to the manger area. The Innkeeper can help the animals get to their places, then moves to the back of stage left and stays on stage until the end of the play.)

(Grandpa Donkey stands up and stretches his arms out and begins to sing a long "OOOOOOOOOOOOOO" as he stretches. He is singing to the donkey family, and points to them, gestures as if making a point when singing the words "Bethlehem's stable" each time it is sung.)

OOOO..... Bethlehem's stable was full that night, E I E I O...
And in that stable, there were some

(calls out "cows" without singing the word)

Cows! E I E I O...With a MOO, MOO here

(Grandpa Donkey stops singing, puts his hand behind his ear and says)

I CAN'T HEAR YOU! ...and a MOO, MOO there

(Grandpa Donkey stops singing again and puts his hand behind his ear and says)

I STILL CAN'T HEAR YOU! Here a _____

(puts hand behind ear to hear)

MOO, There a _____

(puts hand behind ear to hear)

MOO

(Grandpa Donkey gestures "2 thumbs up" and continues singing)

Everywhere a Moo, Moo

(Grandpa Donkey addressing the donkey family)

Please help me sing, I think I'm starting to become a little horse!

OOOO.....Bethlehem's stable was full that night, E I E I O...

And in that stable there were some

(calls out "sheep" without singing the word)

SHEEP! E I E I O...With a BAA, BAA here

(Grandpa Donkey continues the song until the end. Joseph and Mary carrying the baby Jesus, come on stage and stand behind the manger as Grandpa Donkey is about to end the song. Grandpa Donkey sits down after singing and takes a big sighing breath and makes rocking arm movements as if to be rocking a baby)

I can still see Mary's smile as she sang for the first time to her new baby boy.

MARY

(Mary sings as she rocks baby Jesus in her arms. At the end of her song, she lays the baby in the manger)

GRANDPA DONKEY

(speaking softly and slowly after Mary places the baby in the manger)

And don't you know, just about the time I was thinking we were finally going to get some sleep.... because the whole stable was quiet.

SHEPHERDS AND SHEEP

(Shepherds and sheep enter the stage, jumping up and down as they make their way down the aisle and stand in front of Mary and Joseph. They keep jumping the entire time until Joseph motions for them to calm down.)

GRANDPA DONKEY

Then...BANG! The doors of the stable flew open and the loudest bunch of guys I'd ever heard came busting in that stable, yelling all at once, and jumping up and down as they ran in. They told Mary and Joseph that they had been asleep that night out on the hillside with their sheep and then an Angel appeared up in the sky, right above their heads, and told them, "Don't be afraid. I have great news for you. Today, in Bethlehem, a Savior is born, and He is Christ the Lord!" The Angel went on to tell them, "And this is how you will know you have found Him; He will be wrapped in a blanket, laying in a manger." Then the shepherds said,

(At the word "suddenly" all the shepherds burst their arms out above their heads, and looking up, they start wildly pointing upward while they keep jumping)

Suddenly! the sky was filled with thousands of Angels! They were everywhere! The angels began praising God, and it sounded like the roar of a million thunders as they shouted, "Glory to God in the Highest, and on earth, peace, goodwill to men.

(Joseph gesturing with his hands the "sit down" hand wave)

Joseph tried to calm down the Shepherds,

(Mary picks up the baby out of the manger and shows the shepherds)

but then Mary, picked up baby Jesus and showed Him to them.

(shepherds kneel before Jesus)

The shepherds bowed down and knelt before Jesus, because they knew, He was Father God's very own Son."

(Mary places the baby in the manger. The Shepherds and sheep stand up and move to the left of the manger and sit down opposite of Grandpa Donkey.)

GRANDPA DONKEY

(Grandpa Donkey speaks soft and slowly)

And don't you know, just about the time I was thinking we were finally going to get some sleep, because the whole stable was quiet again.

WISEMEN, CAMEL & STAR

(Following the Star, the Wisemen enter the stage with the first Wiseman holding the reins to the Camel)

GRANDPA DONKEY

(speaking louder and with excitement)

But, then, outside the manger, up on the road by the inn, a whole crowd of excited people were talking to each other, and asking questions like "Who are they?" and "Why have they come here?" and "I wonder if they are going to spend any of their money in my store?" And as the crowd approached the stable, they got louder and louder, and I heard, and felt, the heavy pounding of camel's hooves as they got closer, and closer to us.

(Grandpa Donkey and the donkey family stomp their feet together in rhythm. Mary is concerned and startled and picks up baby Jesus.)

(Joseph steps down in front of the stage to meet the Wisemen. When the Wisemen arrive, they point to the Star. The Star walks on stage and stands behind Mary and the manger. The Angel comes on stage and stands to the left of the Star. Any Additional Angels fill in the area around the Angel and the Star. Joseph comes back on stage and stands next to Mary)

Joseph told Mary to stay in the stable while he went outside to see what was happening. When he came back in, he told Mary that three wealthy wise men, dressed like kings, had traveled all the way from their country in the far east, to Bethlehem, by following a star God had put up in the sky.

(Joseph points up to the star and Mary looks up at it and looks surprised.)

They told Joseph they were looking for a baby boy, chosen by God to be, “The King of the Jews.” Then, they told Joseph the star stopped moving and shined its light down onto the roof of our stable! The three wise kings told Joseph they knew they had found Him and called Him “The King of Kings.” Joseph told Mary that the kings were asking for permission to come see Jesus, so that they might worship Him.

(Mary nods her head “yes”)

Mary said, “Yes, of course, let them in.”

(Joseph steps to the edge of the stage and waves the Wisemen to come in)

So, Joseph opened the door to the stable, and in walked the three finest looking kings I had ever seen.

(Grandpa Donkey slows down his speech and takes his time, emphasizing words to create reverence, wonder and awe and give the Wisemen time to present their gifts. The Camel stays in front of the stage to the right of the manger. The Wisemen take turns, walking up to the manger to look at Jesus. They each kneel and lay their gift in front of the manger, bow their head and hold their hands together in a pointed prayer position for a moment. After they stand, each Wisemen decides what he would like to do (i.e. lean over the manger and touch or kiss the forehead of the baby Jesus; pick up the baby and hold Him up toward heaven; or hug Him; or just hold Him out and gaze into His face. After their moment with baby Jesus, they join the Camel.)

They were dressed from head to toe in gold chains and jewels, wearing long robes of embroidered silks and furs, and their clothes had the fragrance of expensive perfumes and spices. The stable grew quiet as we watched each king gaze into the face of Jesus, then lay presents of gold, frankincense and myrrh at Jesus' feet. We listened as they filled the stable with soft whispers of blessings and worshipped Him. (PAUSE) They knew, He was Father God's very own Son...their King...and their Savior...sent by Father God, to bring God's love to everyone in the whole world." (PAUSE) In the Bible, it is written, "For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whoever believes on Him, shall not perish, but have everlasting life.

(Grandpa Donkey closes his book)

Good night my donkey family, I love you, and Merry Christmas.

DONKEY FAMILY

(everyone says to Grandpa Donkey all at once.)

Good-night Grandpa Donkey. Merry Christmas, we love you too," or little hee-haws (etc.)

The Innkeeper walks to center stage and waves at Grandpa Donkey to come to center stage. The Innkeeper holds his arms and hands out towards Grandpa Donkey as if to be "presenting" Grandpa Donkey. The Innkeeper tells Grandpa Donkey to take a bow. The Innkeeper then motions the Shepherd and Sheep to come and take a bow. The Innkeeper then does the same for the Angel, the Star, the Wisemen and Camel, Joseph and Mary with baby Jesus. Then the Innkeeper bows.
